

The New York Times provides several hundred digital access passes to FIU students each day, in addition to the paper copies available around FIU's campuses every morning. Once you claim a pass, you have access for a full 24 hours, regardless of how many times you log in and out. Passes become available throughout the day as they expire.

The URL is www.nytimes.com/passes. Once you go to the link, you'll register and set up a username and password. You'll get a verification email to ensure that it's coming from an FIU student, and then you can claim your pass.
