mail to arrange appointment.)

Outline
• Syllabus, Policies, Introduction
• Chapter 1. What Does “Living with Earth” Mean?
• Chapter 2. Earth Systems
• Chapter 3. The Dynamic Geosphere and Plate Tectonics
• Chapter 4. Geosphere Materials
• Chapter 5. Earthquakes
• Chapter 6. Volcanoes
• Chapter 7. Rivers and Flooding
• Chapter 8. Unstable Land
• Chapter 9. Changing Coasts
• Chapter 10. Water Resources
• Chapter 11. Soil Resources
• Chapter 12. Mineral Resources
• Chapter 13. Energy Resources
• Chapter 14. Atmosphere Resources and Climate Change
• Chapter 15. Managing People’s Environmental Impact

Performance Measures, Grading/Attendance Standards
Quizzes and Attendance: 1/2 of grade. 10-minute quizzes will be administered on a random day at a random time during class generally following completion of a book chapter of material. The sum of all quiz grades will be weighted to account for 1/2 of your overall course grade. There can be approximately 12 quizzes, in which case each one is worth about 4% of your overall grade. Depending on progress in the class, there can be fewer of more quizzes, which will affect the weight given to each one. There will be no make up quizzes (except when due to religious holy days; see below), so they will also serve as a measure of your attendance. Quizzes will be based on lecture, text, and study guide material.

The field trip is a special required event held on a whole Saturday arranged early in the semester. Those who are unable or unwilling to attend the field trip will be assigned a single-spaced 5-6 page paper and a 10-minute in-class presentation on a topic of the instructor’s choosing and will be graded by the instructor on a 0-100% scale for originality, quality, and depth. The student’s overall score in the class will be multiplied by the instructor’s grade for the paper and used to compute the final letter grade. Failure to attend the field trip or complete the alternative assignment will have their letter grade reduced by one letter (e.g., an A will become a B).

Examinations: 1/4 of grade each. One mid-term and one final examination will focus on concepts. Examinations will be based on lecture, text, study guide, and quiz material.

Grading: Grading will be based on visual inspection of the cumulative grade distribution with adjustments made for the field trip or paper/presentation requirement. Papers and presentations will be assessed for effort, understanding developed, quality of sources, and quality of writing. Cut-and-paste papers are not acceptable for satisfying the requirement.

University Policy on Religious Holy Days:
1. Each student shall, upon notifying his/her instructor, be excused from class to observe a religious holy day of his/her faith.
2. While the student will be held responsible for the material covered in his/her absence, each student shall be permitted a reasonable amount of time to make up any work missed.
3. No major test, major class event, or major University activity will be scheduled on a major religious holy day.
4. Professors and University administrators shall not arbitrarily penalize students who are absent from academic or social activities because of religious observances.

I am planning to have the midterm examination on Friday October 11, 2019, which does not conflict with any religious observance according to http://www.interfaith-calendar.org/2019.htm.

Please provide any notifications required by Number 1 of the policy via e-mail by close of business Friday, September 6, 2019.
